A Message From The Pastor:

Family albums are probably the most boring things in the world to all except the family itself. It would be expecting too much for a stranger or even a friend to understand all of the meaning that the pictures have for people who really care. This, then, is our Family Album and while it may not mean much to some, to us here at St. Pat's it is an account of our family; kids growing up — new faces coming in. To all who worked so hard to produce this little directory we offer a large thanks. We hope that it can be used to help draw the family closer together.

May God Bless you all,
Fr. Lawrence Heeg

The History of St. Patrick's Parish

The history of our church starts in 1822 when Joseph Bailly a French-Canadian trader, landed on the north bank of the Calumet River, (which is now Porter County). He constructed, of unhewn logs, the first cabin that was raised in the county. Here, this solitary settler drew around him the natives from whom he purchased furs and other articles, for which he paid them articles of use and ornament. His business increased, and his buildings multiplied until there were six or eight cabins clustered about the first one that was built.

Mr. Bailly married an Ottawa Indian girl in 1824 and his business prospered as his family grew. The entire family — four daughters and one son — were devout Catholics, so a family Chapel was built, where Mass was offered by some missionary priest as early as 1826. Until 1841 the Catholics of this vicinity attended Mass at the Bailly homestead.

Eventually the area was visited by priests from Notre Dame — Fathers of The Holy Cross. In those Missionary years, James Maroney's house was the home of the visiting priest.

In 1858, Father E.B. Kilroy, built a small frame church and in 1859 he added a rectory, on the Frank Brown property, north of the Lake Shore Railroad.

From 1858 to 1868, priests from LaPorte also attended to the spiritual needs of Catholics in this region.

The first resident pastor, Father John Flynn, was appointed in September, 1868, and died here on August 1, 1870. Two lots, south of the railroad and suitable for a larger church, were purchased by Father Flynn.

From 1870 to 1875, Chesterton again became a mission in charge of priests from LaPorte, Valparaiso and Notre Dame: Father F.X. Lawler, Father W.F. O'Rourke, Father Timothy O'Sullivan, Father O. Koncz and Father M. O'Reilly.

A portion of the present St. Patrick Church was erected in 1874 by Father O'Reilly. After 1875, the parish began to have a resident Pastor again. As we list their names here — with some of their accomplishments — we might remind ourselves of the thousands of Masses, Baptisms, Weddings, Funerals, Converts, First Communions, Confessions and other pastoral duties they performed, which became the history of the parish and the memories of joy and sadness, work and accomplishments — all that the present and former parishioners of St. Patrick recall:
